Icons show that this user is banned and deactivated

Reason for ban:
You disturbed other users by throwing your used socks at them during an event.

We never display anyone's phone number to the admin.

Are you sure you want to delete a match? They then can't see your profile via the app - but the sent mail with your date can't be unsent.

Clicking on a match will show their profile

After confirming the code you will be forwarded to the event

Events views
- visited or not -> visited should be in the past
- planned to visit or not -> should be in the future
- public vs. private -> should be in the future

Event search filters
- name
- time and date interval
- host's first and last name
- location (only as a string)

Are you sure you want to delete your account?

The button that copies the event link into your clipboard is only shown for public events

After clicking the "I'll be there" button, it will change to: "I won't take part"

Important:
Entrance Code != Invite Code for hidden event
(this might confuse some users)

No confirm button - checks if code is correct on each key-press

At the event, you'll either be seated by the host or have to find a date yourself.

Then one of you both has to enter the other persons username into their phone.

You then have to wait until the host starts the timer for all participants.

The timer determines how much time you get to get to know your date.

After the timer runs out - you'll have to decide whether you liked your date.

After the event you'll get your matches on this app and get a reminder via mail.

Begin of Event -> set by organizer

- location

Are you sure you want to deactivate your account? Your future events will be deleted and participants will be notified about your decision.

Edit Button: The UI of the edit-page is identical to that of the create-page.

Are you sure you want to cancel this event?

Won't lead to this page if the event got deactivated.

Will instead show error.

If the event has had already taken place then a button will show up to show statistics.

- 100% date-coverage would mean that every single possible pair that could have possibly been made was made.
- 100% match-ratio would mean that every single date was a match
